

We would like to thank the players who braved the cold weather and played in the 2011 Golden Spike Amateur. In general the scores were higher this year, probably due to the comment that was made by many, "I haven't got to practice at all this wet spring." Despite little practice and the cold there were three players that took it deep.

The highlight of the morning round came from Kyler Deardon (66). Two other players, Jordan Rogers and Ben Schilleman, matched that score by shooting 5 under in the afternoon. Considering the frigid temperatures and gusty winds these scores are incredible.
